House Defeats the Folkes Bill Measure Limiting Interest of B. and L. Co.'s Recommitted.

The House of Delegates put in a busy Kay yesterday, discussing several subjects of interest, and taking some important action. .The Senate spent most of its time considering the revision bills on the calendar and passed nine of them The most important action was the amendment of the bill in relation to bribery by striking out the word corruptly, thus broadening the scope of the

The House recommitted the bill and amendment of Mr. Sipe limiting the rate of interest to be charged by building and loan associations to 8 per cent. after a vigorous debate. The bill in relation to the salary of the auditor was called up and reconsidered, and the bill, fixing the salary at $4,000, was passed, and now goes to the Governor.

The bill, appropriating $50,090 additional for repairs to the penitentiary, was taken in an appropriating the principal of the finding the principal office of a railway company, and proposed to broaden its scope by limiting it to the State of Virginia Instead of the city of Richmond. Various members opposed the amendment, and it was lost.

The Governor, in a communication to the House, suggested an amendment, giving the Executive authority to appoint the Capitol elevator conductor. The amendment was adopted.

A vigorous debate ensued over the effort to limit the quantity of liquor to be sold by distillers. The quantity was findly fixed at two gallons instead of one.

The House.

The House.

One of the features of the House sestion was the fight over the liquor question, it having arisen over Senate bill reducing the number of gallons of laquor to be sold by distillers to one gallon instead of two, as at present.

Messrs. Folkes and Whitehead conducted a fight for amendments offered by Messrs. Toney and Jennings, respectively fixing the minimum quantity at ten and five gallons. Taking these for his text, Mr. Folkes made a warm speech on the subject of the Mann bill, which he declared was breeding distilleries on the ruins of bar-rooms, which it had desired. Ho wanted to fix the minimum out of the reach of as many people as possible in Mann bill districts. Mr. Whitehead spoke in the same line, and the result was the adoption of an amendment, leaving the law in its present ricape, the number of gallons being placed at two on Mr. Whitehead's motion.

Mr. Newhouse and others spoke for the bill, as it came from the Senate, fixing the amount at one gallon.

BILLS OFFERED. The following bills were offered and re-

The following bills were offered and referred:

By Mr. L. P. Stearnes: To provide for the payment for the work of indexing the journals of the present General Assembly.

By Mr. H. E. Lee: To extend the time for the collection of capitation and property taxes until January ist, 1904, without the addition of the penalty.

Senate bill 878, to reduce the number of gallons of apple brandy which may be sold by distillers from two to one, was so amended on motion of Mr. Whitehead as to again make the limit two gallons, restoring the law to its present status, except that an amendment was inserted, on motion of Mr. Allen, of Bottourt, striking out the words "except cider" and inserting in lieu thereof "except pure apple cider." The effect of this amendment is to prohibit the sale of medicated ciders promiscuously.

of this amendment is to promint the sale of medicated ciders promiscuously.

Mr. Toney offered un amendment fixing the minimum amount of brandy to be sold by distillers at ten gallons, and when this had been rejected, Mr. Jennings offered one fixing it at five. This was also rejected, the vote heing: Ayes, 26; noes, 36.

Sipe's amendment to the building and loan bill, forbidding building and loan associations to charge a higher rate of interest than eight per cent, for the loan

Interest than eight per cent, for the loan of money.

He contended that the adoption of the amendment would drive a number of associations out of business, and he pointed out at some length the benefits arising from them to the poorer classes. The amendment had aiready been adopted, and Mr. Whitehead was seeking to have the bill recommitted.

Mr. Gent, of Russell, opposed the motion to commit, and he took occasion to rasp the building associations in the State. Mr. Whitehead replied warmly to Mr. Gent, and Mr. Angell supported the motion to commit, Mr. Caton spoke on the metion to commit, Mr. Caton spoke on the motion to commit, and it was favored by Mr. Cumming. Mr. Churchman was opposed to the motion, and it was favored by Mr. Jennings.

BILL RECOMMITTED. The bill was recommitted by a vote of 40 to 26. Mr. Boaz called up Senate bill 503 to raise the salary of Auditor Maryo from $3,000 to $4,000, and Mr. Green stated that he should vote "aye." as he would rather be right than consistent. He now believed that the funds were sufficient to meet this demand, as well as his pension bill.

Mr. Churchman opposed the bill, as it came from the Senate, and offered to amend by striking out $1,000, and invert $35,000. The amendment was rejected and the roll was called on the bill, resulting ayes, 53; noes, 17, and the bill was passed.

The penitentiary bill appropriating $50,000 additional for repairs at that institution was passed, ayes, 50; noes, 7.

Mr. Felkes called up House bil No. tif, defining a principal office of railway company, and he offered a substitute requiring that they be kept in Virginia rather than Richmond, and asked that the broader measure be voted for. He advocated the substitute, and it was opposed by Mr. Churchman, chairman of the Roads Committee.

The Senate.

The Senate.

The Senate of Virginia was called to order by the Lieutenant-Governor at 11 A. M. yesterday, with a fairly large attendance of senators. There was no prayer. Seventeen House bills and a Senate bill with House substitute, passed by the House of Delegates Wednesday, were communicated to the Senate and referred to committees, most of them going to the Committee for Courts of Justice.

Beveral House bills relating to revision were passed.

Several House bills relating to revision were passed.

Mr. McIlwaine for the Committee for Courts of Justice reported House bill 357, with Senate amendments, the purpose of the bill being to create a bureau of insurance and banking, etc. The bill was made a special and continuing order for 11:30 A. M. to-day.

The Chair was then vacated while the Lieutenant-Governor signed seventeen Senate bills and eleven House bills.

On motion of Mr. Walker, the Senate the approceeded to the consideration of the special order, and Senate bill 478 was laid before the Senate. This is a bill to amond and re-enact section 3744 and 3745 of the Code in relation to the giving or acceptance of a bribe and the punishment therefor.

Correspondence Solicited, wains offered an amendment which would seem to accentuate his very objection to the bill, making it breader and more dras-tic than originally reported. This was the striking out the word "corruptly" in the first line of each section. The amend-ment, though opposed strenuously by Messrs, Walker and Anderson and others, we decleded Messrs, Man Shands, Walwas adopted: Messrs. Mann, Shands, Wal-was adopted; Messrs. Mann, Shands, Wallace and Walker voting against it. The bill as amended is a broad and aweeping one. It is printed in full elsewhere.

REVISION BILLS PASSED.

The Senate then took up and passed with slight amendment Senate bills from 479 to 486 inclusive, almost completing the volume of Senate revision bills.

FOR BRIBERY

The Senate Yesterday Passed a Measure Regarded as Very Drastic.

'CORRUPTLY" STRICKEN OUT

Apparent Attempt to Make the Law so Severe That it Will Soon be Repealed.

The bill passed by the Senate yesterday in relation to the giving or acceptance of a bribe and the punishment therefor, was amended by Mr. Mellwalne to strike out the word, "corruptly." As amended, it was the subject of considerable debate, being antagonized by Messrs, Walker and Anderson, and championed in a rather impassioned speech by Mr. Mellwaine, patron of the amendment. The bill, it is claimed, will have the effect of strengthening the Barksdale pure elections law,

By striking out the word, "corruptly," the drastic measure becomes much broader, and in the opinion of many, would, if enforced, have the effect of making a person liable to the penitentiary if he asked a candidate for the Legislature how he would vote on a certain measure, as a condition of securing the elector's vote.

Be that as it may, Senator McIlwaine Be that as it may, senator Mcliwaine, an open and confessed opponent of the Barksdale law, offered and advocated the amendment, which it is thought by some will make the law so drastic that it will be altogether repealed at the first opportunity.

Here is the full text of the amended

Here is the full text of the amended bill as passed by the Senate:
Sec. 3741. Bribes to influence vote, opinion, &c., of officers, how punished going out of State to give or offer, and &c., and returning. If any person give, offer or promise anywhere in this State, any person shall go out of this State, any person shall go out of this State with the intention of returning for the purpose of giving, offering or promising; and does
